9. Copyright Release:

Copyright laws make it necessary for the Society to obtain a release from authors for all materials published. To this end we ask you to grant us all rights, including subsidiary rights, for your article. You will hereby be relinquishing to the American Society of Animal Science all control over this material such as rights to make or authorize reprints, to reproduce the material in other Society publications, and to grant the material to others without charge in any book of which you are the author or editor after it has appeared in the Journal.

Whereas the American Society of Animal Science is undertaking to publish the Journal of Animal Science, of which the undersigned is author of one or more parts, the author grants and assigns exclusively to the Society for its use any and all rights of whatsoever kind or nature now or hereafter protected by the copyright laws (common or statutory) of the United States and all foreign countries in all languages in and to the above-named article, including all subsidiary rights, The Society, in turn, grants to the author(s) the right of republication in any book of which he is author or editor, subject only to his giving proper credit in the book to the original Journal publication of the article by the Society.

Each author agrees that the material furnished for the Journal has not been published previously elsewhere. Otherwise, the author guarantees that if it has been previously published in whole or in part, permission has been obtained from author(s) and publisher for reproduction in the Journal, and the author will submit copy for the credit lines with the manuscript.

The corresponding author will be given an opportunity to read and correct the edited manuscript as page proofs, but if the author fails to return proofs to the technical editor of the Journal within the time specified on the reprint order form, production and publication may proceed without the author's approval of the edited manuscript.

The author(s) will receive no monetary return from the Society for the use of material contained in the manuscript.

Articles simultaneously posted to Web sites and submitted to JAS should carry a disclaimer on the Web site that this version of the paper has not undergone JAS peer review and is not to be considered the final published form of the article. If the article is published in JAS, we ask that you post the PDF version of the article to your Web site so proper credit can be given to JAS as the publisher of the article. Because JAS holds the copyright to articles it publishes, posting altered JAS articles that are represented as exact duplicates of the published version constitutes copyright violation.
