

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ANIMAL SCIENCE

American Feed Industry Association Award in Ruminant Nutrition Research

Name of Award: The American Society of Animal Science – American Feed Industry Association Award in Ruminant Nutrition Research.

Nature of Award: A monetary award and a plaque.

Purpose: To stimulate research excellence in the nutrition of ruminant animals in North America.

Eligibility for Nomination

- Work must be original and concerned with ruminant nutrition. Review articles will not be considered.
- Research work published in the 10 years immediately preceding the year recognition is given will be eligible for consideration.
- The research upon which the nomination is based must be different from that submitted for the ADSA American Feed Industry Association Award in Ruminant Nutrition.
- Research when the nominee is a previous winner of or a candidate for the ADSA AFIA Award in Ruminant Nutrition Research.

Dossier must include the following materials:

- CV/Biography of the nominee.
- Summary statement (not to exceed 8000 characters and spaces) describing the importance of the nominee's contributions to the livestock industry.
- List of the nominee's research publications for the previous 10-year period.
- Citation for printing and reading (not to exceed 1000 characters and spaces).
- Photo of nominee (photo will only be used in the awards program and will not be visible to the award review committee).

Sponsored by: American Feed Industry Association (AFIA)