

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ANIMAL SCIENCE

Gary L. Cromwell Award for Minerals Nutrition

Name of Award: The American Society of Animal Science Gary L. Cromwell Award for Mineral Nutrition.

Nature of Award: A specific monetary award and a plaque. The award is supported by interest derived from the Gary L. Cromwell Appreciation Club of the American Society of Animal Science Foundation.

Purpose: To recognize excellence in research dealing with mineral nutrition of livestock.

Eligibility for Nomination:

- Nominee shall have conducted basic or applied research in the area of mineral nutrition.
- Original research published during the nominee's lifetime with emphasis on the 10-year period preceding the year of the award.
- Previous recipients of the ASAS Gustav Bohstedt Award for Research in Minerals are not eligible for consideration.

Dossier must include the following materials:

- CV/Biography of the nominee.
- Summary statement (not to exceed 8000 characters and spaces) describing the importance of the nominee's contributions in mineral nutrition to the livestock industry.
- List of the nominee's research publications dealing with minerals.
- Citation for printing and reading (not to exceed 1000 characters and spaces).
- Photo of nominee (photo will only be used in the awards program and will not be visible to the award review committee).