ASAS Retiree Service Award

Name of Award: The American Society of Animal Science Retiree Service Award.

Nature of Award: Plaque/statue and free registration for annual meeting when recognized. Award information goes into the “Hall of Honor.”

Purpose: Animal scientists, who continue their service to the Society after they retire from their primary professional career position, contribute valuable knowledge and experience to the Society. Exemplary service in this capacity should be encouraged and recognized by a formal award.

Eligibility for Nomination:

- At least three (3) consecutive years of membership in ASAS after retirement from the primary professional career position (or three consecutive years in the “retiree” membership category) must have elapsed immediately prior to the due date of nomination submission for the individual to be eligible for this award.
- Primary award criteria involve service to ASAS, the affiliated sections, the ASAS Foundation and other ASAS activities by serving as officers, board members, standing or special committee members, meeting or symposia planners, etc. Pre-retirement activities or achievements are not considered for this award. This award is specifically intended to recognize service to ASAS, not the livestock industry.

Nomination dossier must conform to the following:

- CV/Biography of the nominee.
- Summary statement (not to exceed 8000 characters and spaces) describing the importance of the nature and importance of the nominee’s post-retirement service to ASAS.
- One letter of support from any ASAS member other than the nominator.
- Citation for printing and reading (not to exceed 1000 characters and spaces).
- Photo of nominee (photo will only be used in the awards program and will not be visible to the award review committee).
