CONSTITUTION Revised July 2004

ARTICLE I-The Society and Its Purposes

Section 1. This association shall be known as the AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ANIMAL SCIENCE, INC.

Section 2. The mission of the society is to advance animal sciences research and education through the exchange of scientific and technical information and applications to animal agriculture, public policy and public understanding.

Section 3. The activities of the Society shall be to: (1) promote more effective research; (2) disseminate scientific and educational information in its official publications; (3) foster high standards of education; (4) maintain high standards of ethics; (5) promote advancements of the profession; and (6) cooperate with other organizations having similar objectives.

ARTICLE II-Membership

Section 1. All persons interested in research, instruction or extension in animal science or in the production of livestock or livestock products shall be eligible for membership.

Section 2. Membership may be obtained by application, subject to review by the Membership Committee, and the payment of dues.

ARTICLE III-Governing Body

Section 1. The governing body of the Society is the Board of Directors, which consists of the Officers, Editor-in-Chief, Foundation Chair, a Director chosen by each of the sections and nine Directors-at-Large (selected by the membership) and two Graduate Directors (predoctoral or post-doctoral student selected by the membership). The Executive Director and Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Animal Science shall be appointed by the Board of Directors. The Program Secretary and Recording Secretary will be selected from the Directors and by the Board of Directors.

Section 2. The Executive Committee shall consist of the Officers of the Society, the Editor-in-Chief, and the Foundation Chair. The Officers of the Society shall consist of the President, President-Elect, immediate Past President, Program Secretary, Recording Secretary, and Executive Director. The Executive Director shall participate as a non-voting member.

Section 3. The President and President-Elect shall hold office for one year, the President-Elect succeeding the President at the end of the regular year in office. The immediate Past President shall hold office for one year immediately following term of office as President. The Editor-in-Chief shall hold office for three years. Directors shall serve for a term of three years on a rotational basis. Graduate Directors shall serve for a term of two years on a rotational basis. In the absence of other provisions for succession, all Officers shall serve until their successors are duly appointed.

ARTICLE IV-Meetings

Section 1. The Society shall hold an Annual Meeting at the time and place selected by the Board of Directors, which shall be responsible for a program, and to work with the FASS office in making other necessary arrangements for the meeting. The Board of Directors shall have authority to cancel an Annual Meeting if circumstances make such action necessary or desirable.

Section 2. Sectional meetings shall be held at times and places set by the officers of each section.

ARTICLE V-Sectional Divisions of the Society

Section 1. The AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ANIMAL SCIENCE, INC. shall consist of four sectional divisions: Midwestern, Northeastern, Southern, and Western.

Section 2. Each section will elect its own officers and conduct its own business. Each section will select a member to serve on the Board of Directors of the American Society of Animal Science for a three year term.

Section 3. Sectional membership will be assigned based on the state, province, or country of residence as described in the Bylaws of the Society, unless the member designates a section other than that established by residence. A part of the annual dues of the Society will be allocated to sections on an equitable basis according to membership. Members may receive mailings from other sections by payment of additional dues.

Section 4. Each section is responsible for defraying the expenses of its annual meetings. The money prorated to a section from the parent society may be used for the benefit of carrying on the section's business.

Section 5. No annual dues will be collected by the sectional divisions. This does not preclude charging a registration fee at sectional meetings.

ARTICLE VI-Changes in the Constitution

A proposed amendment may originate from the Board of Directors or by petition signed by 25 members. Proposed amendments shall be provided to the membership 60 days prior to the Annual Meeting for balloting. Balloting may be at the Annual Meeting, by mail or electronically. To be counted, mail ballots or votes must be received by the Business Office not later than 14 days before the Annual Meeting. A two-thirds majority of the total votes cast shall be required for the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution.

Section 1. Balloting for Elective Officers and Directors-at-Large, and Graduate Directors shall be by mail or electronically prior to the Annual Meeting. Nominating committees appointed by the President and approved by the Board, shall nominate two candidates for President-Elect and each of the Directors-at-Large and Graduate Directors. The ballot shall be provided to the membership by the Business Office at least 60 days prior to the Annual Meeting and shall provide space for write-ins. The ballots will be counted by the Business Office Staff for purposes of providing notification to the Executive Committee of the results of the election. The President shall notify candidates of the election results. A majority of votes shall be required for election. If no candidate receives a majority of votes, the two candidates receiving the highest numbers of votes shall be voted upon at the Annual Meeting.

Section 2. The Board of Directors shall fill, for the unexpired terms, all vacancies in elective positions. The President of the Society shall fill all vacancies in appointive positions.

ARTICLE IV-Duties of Officers

Section 1. The Officers of the Society shall each perform the duties usually incumbent upon their respective offices. The Executive Committee will act as the governing body of the Society in routine matters in the intervals between Board meetings. In questions of parliamentary procedure, the provisions of Robert's Rules of Order shall apply. The President-Elect, in consultation with the Board of Directors, shall appoint such committees as necessary. The committees will report to the Board of Directors.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to determine policies and procedures in regard to publishing the Journal of Animal Science.

Section 3. The Board of Directors may appoint an Executive Director for an indefinite period under terms established by the Board of Directors; the appointment may be terminated only by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE V-Changes in the Bylaws

A proposed amendment to the Bylaws may originate from the Board of Directors or by petition signed by 25 members. Proposed amendments shall be provided to the membership 60 days prior to the Annual Meeting for balloting. Balloting may be at the annual business meeting, by mail, or electronically. To be counted, votes must be received by the Business Office at least 14 days before the Annual Meeting. A majority of the ballots cast shall be required for the adoption of an amendment to the Bylaws.
